2. The attached study is suitable for dispatch to the field. Its suggestions had to be kept somewhat general, in order to make them as universally applicable as possible. We suggest therefore that you do not disseminate it indiscriminately to all field stations and bases, but dispatch it only to those stations which are in a position to make actual use of it. For this purpose, you may wish to accompany it with a dispatch outlining specific steps and the use of available outlets. We recommend that you coordinate with this Staff dispatches to the field which are not mere letters of transmittal, but contain specific instructions in order to avoid accidental application of the same idea in different places in a manner which could conceivably result in mutual compromise.

3. For such coordination, for additional copies of the attached study (please specify whether for headquarters or for field use) or for any inquiries about specific contact: Operations Division,
